Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-17 and 18, drawn to an antigen composition, classified in class 424, subclass 400.
- II. Claim 11, drawn to a composition containing ovalbumin and cholera toxin, classified in class 530, and subclass 367.
- III. Claims 12, 13, 17, 21 and 22, drawn to a composition containing Infectious Bursal Disease Virus, classified in class 435, subclass 235.1.
- IV. Claims 19 and 20, drawn to a method of preparing microspheres, classified in class 424, subclass 489.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions I and II are different because the antigen composition can contain any known antigen whereas the composition of group II is limited only to ovalbumin and cholera toxin. Thus, the effect achieved with the composition of group II can be different from that of group I.

Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions I and III are different because the antigen composition can contain any known antigen whereas the composition of group III is only limited to Infectious Bursal Disease Virus. Accordingly, composition of group I containing any other antigen other than the virus of group III, will not achieve the same end result. Similarly, the groups II and III are unrelated because the two compositions are different in terms of their active agent, i.e., Infectious Bursal Disease Virus and ovalbumin, and hence would have different effects.

Inventions I and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions I and IV are different because the method of preparing microspheres as in group IV can be practiced not only with an antigen but also with any other drug or active agent. Whereas antigen composition can also be prepared in other forms other than microspheres, of group IV. Similarly, the compositions of groups II and III can be prepared in any other form, such as solutions, dispersions, emulsions etc., other than a microsphere.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, III or IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Similarly, the search required for group II is not required for group III or IV.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

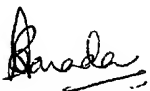

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
